Grant making Policy:
The Trustees have implemented a scheme to provide financial assistance to individuals for horticultural training if funds permit, to be reviewed annually. The availability of grants is advertised locally, an application is completed and assessed by 2 Trustees and an award is made to any suitable candidates. Any one person can only receive an award for 2 academic years.

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year	 Management, including administration and rental issues, of site of allotments with plot rental open to all residents of area. Activities to promote communal participation include barbecues, competitions and maintenance working parties. Allotment site is a largely unfenced area of gardens thus with open access to public. On-going development of a community orchard by a small group of volunteers led by a qualified horticulturalist. The orchard is on publicly owned land and accessible to all local population at all times. Continuous maintenance by a group of volunteers led by an experienced gardener of 2 areas of garden by public pathways on behalf of local council. One area is for chalk land plants, one for wildlife attracting plants. Gardens can be appreciated by local population. Financial support is offered annually to a locally resident student for one year on a recognised horticultural training course to assist with travel costs, out of college visits etc. Student writes 2 short reports per year describing achievements. Unfortunately for the academic year 2018-2019 no application for the grant was made. Raising of funds to support activities through sales of gardening goods at allotment building (with increased emphasis on organic and wildlife friendly products) and annual public plant sale in centre of town. The latter receives an enthusiastic response from the public for low-priced, high quality and specialist plants. Eight evening meetings for members and public at which there is a lecture by a knowledgeable person on a horticultural topic. These are social and educational events open to all. Other social events and competions at our trading shed have also been introduced to improve involvement across the Club. Outing to horticultural / environmental related event.
