The trustees present their report along with the financial statements of the charity for the year ended 31st December 2019. The financial statements have been prepared based on the accounting policies set out on page 7 and 8 to the financial statements and comply with the charity's constitution, the Charities Act 2011 and the Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland issued in October 2019.

Structure, Governance and Management

White Rose is a Charitable Incorporated Organisation registered with The Charity Commission on 11th May 2016. The charity's registered number is 1167035. The charity is governed by a constitution, which was adopted on 11th May 2016.

The constitution states that there must be at least three charity trustees but that there is no maximum number.

The induction process for new trustees comprises being given a copy of the current version of the charity's constitution together with a copy of the most recent annual report and financial statements.

The trustees are responsible for the management of all the risks faced by the charity. These risks are identified and established systems and procedures are put in place to manage these risks. A risk register is kept and discussed at every meeting.

Objectives and Activities

In the constitution document the charity's objectives are defined as:-

To work towards the prediction, prevention and ultimately the elimination of genocide for the benefit of humanity primarily through funding of research, education and the dissemination of information and advice.

A key focus for White Rose is humanity education to create resilience against pathways of inhumanity, breaking cycles of hatred and violence. This adopts a health approach, focusing on the role of prevention, with a particular focus on young people to become voices of humanity in their own communities. The specific focus is strengthening empathy, critical thinking and individual moral responsibility through education, and therefore the behaviours that build trust between individuals and groups.

White Rose also helps to create public interest in genocide prevention, which is a critical part of the mission of White Rose. The social enterprises that White Rose manages are founded upon these values and behaviours, which are promoted through the social networks of the enterprises and by the establishment of a network of supporters.

Finally, the third strand of the mission is research, and White Rose will consider supporting research related to the mission of White Rose, especially where this focuses on the development of evidence-based practice, a crucial part of prevention.

The charity meets its objectives by the development of net income derived from social enterprises and general fundraising that is sustainable and can be grown over time. This includes the chain of White Rose recycled fashion shops operated by White Rose Trading CIC, a wholly owned subsidiary of White Rose. This net income will support activities that further the mission of White Rose.

White Rose does not directly run programmes, but rather is established to provide strategic funding for such programmes and through the enterprise activities it manages, as described below.

The development of net charitable income through social enterprise is a growing and important strand of funding for charitable activities. The trustees acknowledge that, whilst this takes time to develop, this can be built up over time and is an important contribution towards enabling impact that can be sustained.

White Rose develops net charitable income through leveraging investment funds that are provided for philanthropic purposes, developing activities that align to the mission of White Rose and generate a net return over and above the cost of its investment.

Achievements and Performance

The main achievements during the year include continuation of engagement activities, including the humanity pin badges, now sold at the Kigali Genocide Memorial, and online engagement to promote awareness and secure additional charitable income. A significant donation was received to expand the number of clothing banks for the collection of recycled clothing. This also enabled opening two more shops, WR6 and WR7 in Nottingham, and strengthening of the management team later in the year. In addition, a successful application was made to HMRC for Social Investment Tax Relief scheme, which generated £30,000 of donation income in the year.

Financial Review

The charity had net income for the year of £12,297 (2018 - £2,131). The total funds carried forward at 31st December 2019 amounted to £20,529 (2018 - £8,232), of which £19,913 (2018 - £1,796) was represented by unrestricted funds.

Reserves Policy

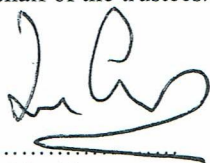

The development of reserves for White Rose is a key component of creating impact that can be sustained. Reserves will fluctuate from year to year, as they are built up and then applied as is appropriate. The trustees will consider from time to time the appropriate minimum level of reserves that should be retained.

Plans for the Future

To further build the development of charitable income and to continue to develop the White Rose retail activity, with a focus to further expand the base of clothing banks and shops.

These plans also include the intention to acquire Champion Humanity Enterprises Ltd, based in Rwanda, and which operates visitor services at the Kigali Genocide Memorial. The Memorial receives around 100,000 visitors each year, of which around 80% are international. Visitor services comprise Memorial gift shop, audio guide rentals, humanity pin badges and Memorial café. The Memorial is operated by Aegis Trust, which also operates a peace & humanity education program, including international outreach. White Rose has been providing management advice and support to the Memorial since its formation in 2016 on social enterprise management. The plans in 2020 represent a natural continuation of this strategy.

Independent examiner's statement

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no material matters have come to my attention in connection with the examination giving me cause to believe that in any material respect:
