Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

To relieve sickness and promote, preserve and protect physical, mental and emotional health by the use of a range of activities and arts in particular but not exclusively by:

(i) providing opportunities for participation in creative projects:

(ii) allowing those who are disadvantaged or isolated to enjoy contact through arts in a safe environment:

(iii) helping people by developing heir confidence and resilience.

To provide recreational and leisure time activity in the interests of social welfare for people who have need by reason of their youth age, infirmity or disability, poverty o social and economic circumstances with a view to improving the conditions of life of such persons.

hArt has continued to offer regular weekly and fortnightly sessions for adults with mental health issues in two locations.

It has offered two outdoor programmes for young people from the SEND streams at local colleges.

hArt has run a pilot workshop on a rehabilitation ward in a local hospital and been invited to undertake further similar sessions in two local community hospitals when funding is in place.

Silverlinks continues to offer support to the older community, and has dealt with a number of referrals from Care Navigators, Social Services and self-referrals, and volunteers are now able to assist the Silverlinks manager.

hArt is also continuing to offer one to one work with children and young people at the request of schools and colleges.

The trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

The effects of Covid-19 have impacted considerably on the small team of mostly self-employed staff at hArt. The regular team now includes just four, all part time, and we are currently working with two art therapists to deliver online sessions, each of whom has a volunteer working with them to take notes.

This new way of working has been appropriate with known clients, but we have paused starting new groups as face to face working, and the referral process, would be extremely difficult in this circumstances. This has impacted on our volunteer recruitment but we are receiving new enquiries and endeavouring to undertake the induction and training online where possible in preparation for a return to face to face delivery.

Section D

Achievements and performance

The impact of Covid 19 for hArt has effectively been to halt our move towards delivery of three funded Arts on Prescription programmes, the first of which was due to start in March 2020. The three different funders have all agreed to delay the requirement for us to proceed, and are allowing us to deliver by February 2022, by which time we expect to have delivered the three pilot 12 week programmes, and been able to gather the evidence to support further similar programmes. We hope to expand the delivery of similar programmes and to follow each new 12 week programme with open access sessions on a fortnightly basis for those who have attended the 12 week programmes, as well as those who want to self-refer for facilitated creative sessions.

Our shift to online delivery was slower than we might have liked, being wary of how to ensure proper safeguarding and it was decided that we could continue to work with known clients but to resist adding new clients to the groups as we would not have had the opportunity to meet them in person and to be certain of their issues and support systems. The safety of clients, therapists and volunteers has informed our decisions. We have, however, tried to improve our social media and developed more group opportunities for supporters to engage online through Facebook, and a blog, with regular updates, has been introduced. We have been involved in making podcasts with other organisations as well as creating our own YouTube channel, which we are starting to populate with work from our own team and some new facilitators.

Outdoor working has also been difficult to offer, as our audiences are in very vulnerable groups who have been quite nervous of venturing out, even in carefully monitored very small family groups, and the weather has also been a factor. We hope to return to offering outdoor working as soon as circumstances allow. We have been working with potential partners and local organisations to look at new opportunities for spaces in which to work outdoors, and have been encouraged by the interest in such possibilities, which has come from the better understanding people have gained over the last year of the health benefits of being outdoors, and we intend to ensure that this is taken forward.

Partnership working has been highlighted this year, and an office move to be within the premises of another charity, Coda Music Centre, is envisaged for late 2020. This will mean that we are on site to be able to discuss potential joint working and partnership funding applications. There is also scope for further development there, which would give hArt a better office space as well as offering the potential to offer some in house workshops and exhibitions. It is expected that this development project may be started in early 2021.

Although this year has been challenging, hArt feels well positioned for the future, and has been fortunate to have reserves which have enabled us to come through. We only had one member of staff eligible for furlough, which we did for three months, but funding in place already has supported the continued working of another member of staff and we have used the time to review and update policies and procedures as well as moving ahead, thanks to the award of an Enterprise Development Grant, with progress towards trading packages to be offered to schools initially.

Section D

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

Achievements and performance

Despite the challenges of this year, we have achieved funding successes aimed at supporting the introduction of Arts on Prescription programmes with some funding also in place for the continuation workshops which will enable those who have attended the initial 12 week programmes to have further contact with hArt and the social creative environment beyond the initial Art Therapy programmes. The aim is to have a progression model that results in better self care and improved resilience, but with the option to refer back to the original agency should any individual need more support.

We have achieved good relations with social prescribers, and grown our contacts with referral agencies, and are developing further ways of offering our work to educational establishments, the health sector and for corporate working through the Enterprise Development Grant awarded in the summer.

Reserves Policy: hArt intends to hold a minimum of £30,000 as reserves. hArt holds further funds which have been specifically designated for core costs over the next two to three years, while it works towards securing further core costs through its ongoing strategic fundraising applications. Reserves at this year end are £155,621. We believe that this is a considered way of proceeding towards a sustainable future.

Further financial review details (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant about:

- the charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising);
- how expenditure has supported the key objectives of the charity;
- investment policy and objectives including any ethical investment policy adopted.

Fundraising has continued with a regular application process to statutory and private trusts and foundations. We have a policy of constant review of our fundraising strategy in line with new opportunities becoming available and have been able to benefit from some of the funding released to support charities during the pandemic. We did not apply for the larger sums for small business support, since we were aware that our outputs were going to be limited for the short term, and felt that we could continue without depleting our reserves at such a time.

Section F

Other optional information

Our Lloyds Bank Foundation funding was awarded for work towards the Trusted Charity quality standard, but this has had to be delayed due to staff reductions and changing in working practices through the pandemic. Lloyds have been generous in their understanding of this, and have accepted that we cannot currently apply for Level 1 of the accreditation, but appreciate that we have used the opportunity to learn and improve our infrastructure through working with the modules, and hArt hopes to progress with this in due course.
