Review of Activities and Income generation

Over the last year Mama Asha Foundation has run a variety of successful projects

2018 was the worst year in Somalia, after been hit by the drought in 2017 and trying to recover. The country has then been hit by the worst rainfall that led to flooding, which displaced hundreds of thousands of people. The rains signal the end of the drought for some areas of the country but they also sharpen the risks faced by acutely malnourished children. Rain is also known for spreading diseases that are particularly deadly for the victims with low immune systems are fragile and exhausted.

Based on the information sources taken by the humanitarian response, about 3.2 million people are in need of life saving and livelihood support, while over 1.1 million people are internally displaced. The flooding has also damaged water sources, sanitation facilities and other critical infrastructure, and 22 nutrition centres treating over 6,000 acutely malnourished children in areas hosting the displaced, have had to shut down.

Many of the flood-impacted areas are in the path of an ongoing measles outbreak, and a spike in acute watery diarrhoea, or cholera, is a major threat, he said.

Children displaced from their homes are

Mama Asha Foundation raised urgent awareness, to local primary school and Somali community. We have managed to collect a reasonable amount of funds, that allowed us to build an immediate shelter for the victims and provided them food and health facilities.

After a public meeting with the community, many mothers have requested our charity more on the 'knife crime' issue. Based on the figure taken by "anti-knife Uk" campaign, In the year up to November, there have been a total of 272 fatal stabbings, with at least 1,887 reported knife attacks. During the meeting, we have spoken to the mother of the victim of knife crime and parents of youth offenders of knife crime. Many parents have expressed concern and lack of knowledge and solution in this type of situation. Parents of youth offenders have admitted language and cultural barrier have been a huge problem. Most of them does not have much information of the trial process and years of the sentences. Some of them have also proposed if there were a possibility of having their child extradited, as they believe that prisons in Somalia are more beneficial than in Britain. Mama Asha foundation have explained that although there is an act where one jurisdiction delivers a person accused or convicted of committing a crime in another jurisdiction. Somalia does not meet the requirements to exercise the Extradition Act 2003, as there isn't a bilateral agreement towards the Somali and British government and that Somalia did not sign the Universal Declaration of Human rights.

The primarily solution of the knife crime issue is to accept and possible gang involvement. If parents believe that their son, is showing suspicious sign of being a member of a gang, its very crucial for them to not deny the signs and start anticipating solutions.

Primarily solutions are:

- Increase communication with their son, without being too judgmental, as this will lead create a barrier.
- Change of environment or recreational activity. Signing up their son to activities that he might be interested in. Although this might not be possible for some families who suffers from low income. Mama Asha Foundation have suggested Youth centres such as Cedars Youth community, based in Harrow. This provides gym, ICT suits and many other more activities.

Mama Asha foundation has held an anti-knife crime event, involving youth campaigning on anti-knife crime. Inviting rappers, youtubers and bloggers. The idea was to gain interest from the youth and encouraging them to stop knife crime. Among the speakers there were survivals victims, mothers of victims and ex-gang members, which have all shared their experience of knife crime. The concept of the event was to give the youth a reality check of the seriousness of knife crime. However, many parents have explained their consistent disappointed by the way the problem had been dealt by the government, with over the past decade.

Although there still have not been any effective solution, our charity will continue to fight against knife crime and hoping to at least decrease the figures.

INDEPENDENT EXAMINER'S REPORT TO THE TRUSTEES OF MOTHER AND CHILD WELFARE ORGANISATION

I report on the accounts of the charity for the year ended 31st July 2020, which is set out on Pages 4 - 9.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The trustees, who are also the directors of MOTHER AND CHILD WELFARE ORGANISATION for the purposes of company law, are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144(2) of the Charities Act 2011, the 2011 Act, and that an independent examination is needed.

Having satisfied myself that the charity is not subject to audit under company law and is eligible for Independent examination, it is my responsibility to:

- (i) examine the accounts under section 145 of the 2011 Act;
- (ii) To follow the procedures laid down in the general Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the 2011 Act; and
- (iii) State whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's report

My examination was carried out in accordance with the general Directions given by the Charity Commission.

An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair view' and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

- (a) Which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements:
- (i) To keep accounting records in accordance with section 386 of the Companies Act 2006; and
- (ii) To prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records, comply with the accounting requirements of 396 of the Companies Act 2006 and with the methods and principles of the Statement of Recommended Practice: Accounting and Reporting by Charities; have not been met: or
- (b) To which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
