Adopt a School teaches children about food in a holistic way from plant to plate, paying respect to food, nutrition, health and hygiene and cooking as a life skill. We believe that learning can and should be fun and informative.

for the year ended 31st December 2021

Since its beginnings in 1990, the Trust has delivered its workshops to many thousands of children across the country – and we have an ever-growing waiting list of schools eager to be ‘adopted’. In addition to the voluntary time invested by our members and the wider hospitality industry who are absolutely passionate about what they do and for whom food is their reason for being, Adopt a School has an on-staff team of 5 including 3 regional chef lecturers daily challenging children’s senses and captivating their curiosity for food and teaching about its significance in every aspect of our lives.

We deliver sessions mainly in classrooms but also on farms. We work with a number of special educational needs schools, youth clubs and with many schools where children come from disadvantaged backgrounds. We have been working with Great Ormond Street for many years and we now also work with Evelina Children’s Hospital and Chelsea and Westminster Hospital. We have discovered that cookery can be an exceptional educational tool to many children who find learning tough, having the added benefit of helping to develop teamwork and communication skills.

Adopt a School is a way of life. It is about improving the lives of young people and changing habits so that the next generations can continue to benefit. We believe strongly in the principle of good, sensible eating which is the key to healthy mind, body and nation and of invaluable benefit to social behaviour.

We also believe that the current approach towards food education needs to be transformed so that it has a secure and definitive place on the curriculum - for all children. Our workshops integrate with many key syllabus subjects.

Financial Review

The Statement of Financial Activities, Balance Sheet and following notes show the performance of the charitable company during the year.

The state of the nation’s economy and the confidence factor are always a feature in fulfilling the plans of the Trust and, this has understandably been another particularly challenging year for the Trust. While we have been unable to benefit from our usual calendar of fundraising events, we have still spent time fundraising and with some success.

As in previous years, there has been great support from grant-makers. The Savoy Educational Trust has been a supporter since 1996 and the Worshipful Company of Cooks since 2000, and more recently, we have received grants from the Garfield Weston Foundation, the Worshipful Company of Innholders, The Band Trust and Table Talk Foundation - all pillars of support both financially and morally. In addition, the University of West London has sponsored Ashley Marsh for 2½ days a week.

The Trustees have no need to be disappointed in the efforts of the team. Applications to grant making bodies are a constant part of the Trust’s work to secure the future. But we are aware that we are one of many also seeking funding. We have unrestricted reserves of £165,385 and restricted reserves of £71,260 as at 31 December 2021.

Covid-19

During the year, the UK and the world continued to be severely affected by the pandemic. Whilst the Royal Academy of Culinary Arts and the Adopt a School Trust has continued to function and carry out its work, there has been an inevitable disruption with the temporary consequence of furloughing some employees and restricted activity; this will have an impact on the year's trading, but the Trustees remain confident that the financial position remains robust and activity levels will recover and strengthen over the coming months and year.

Structure, governance and management

The charitable company was incorporated on 16th January 2001 and is governed by its memorandum and articles of association. It is managed by its directors/ trustees.

New directors/trustees can be appointed by a majority vote of the existing directors/ trustees at a general meeting at which a quorum is obtained.

Statement of trustees' and directors' responsibilities

Charity and company law require the trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of the surplus or deficit of the charity for that period. Under company law the directors must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company and of the income and expenditure of the company for that period. In preparing those financial statements, the trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable UK accounting standards and statements of recommended practice have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company will continue in business.

The directors are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.
