Charity objectives

The Charity works throughout Eastern and Western Europe, as well as the Middle East and North Africa. One of its main activities is developing, translating and publishing Bible study and devotional material of a Christian nature and in particular Bible study courses and other teaching material relating to the Bible. The Charity will also establish local community based Bible study groups overseen by local leadership using the materials referred to previously. These groups/courses will take place in local churches, and other community settings as deemed appropriate, The Charity will also provide Bible taster classes and provide networking opportunities for anyone wishing to explore the Bible. The Charity will run training classes/conferences to enable national and regional leaders (in the areas the Charity works) to provide Bible study classes within their own national/local churches.

How is it advertised?

In the church, website, social media and word of mouth

Who can attend?
