Report of the Trustees for the Year Ended 31 December 2021

The trustees who are also directors of the charity for the purposes of the Companies Act 2006, present their report with the financial statements of the charity for the year ended 31 December 2021. The trustees have adopted the provisions of Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019).

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objectives and aims

The aim of the Commonwealth Human Ecology Council (CHEC), an educational charity, is to further the importance of a holistic and sustainable view of the world and a continuing emphasis on development through the implementation of human ecology. CHEC's programmes strive to awaken the Commonwealth to the need for deeper human and ecological philosophies in order to achieve a wider coalition between all levels of society and the natural world on which they depend.

Mission Statement

Human Ecology embraces the principles of natural and moral philosophy. It draws on knowledge and understanding from the sciences and humanities in order to develop and promote holistic and sustainable initiatives, ideas and development projects with the aim of enhancing and strengthening people's relationships with each other and with their natural environments. Human Ecology, from this standpoint, works to create sustainable, lasting improvements in people's lives by fostering projects that engage and enhance the skills of local communities, involve all sectors of society, improve livelihoods, and maintain environmental benefits. It is a philosophy and a process and is constantly learning and adapting, just as it is educating, encouraging and stimulating others. It has become an academic field of enquiry, a developmental philosophy with an approach to sustainability and a new means of unifying political, economic and social endeavours to provide a meaningful future for rural and urban people in the Commonwealth and elsewhere.

Significant activities

During 2021, as CHEC entered its 51st year, the organisation has continued to focus on areas of international concern such as climate change, food and water security, pollution in the air and in the oceans, urban resilience as well as the role of education in seeking improvements in all such matters where CHEC believes human ecological thinking can help towards programmes that are aimed at achieving sustainability. CHEC's efforts in this regard support the principles outlined by Heads of Government in the Commonwealth Blue Charter. In this regard CHEC's work has continued to focus on the importance of protecting and restoring mangroves which help protect coastlines and the importance of this has been highlighted by the concern of the 32 small member states about the impact of rising sea levels, tropical storms, protection of coastal fishing grounds, corals and reefs.

CHEC UK works with other CHEC Chapters and contacts around the Commonwealth, and in partnership with civil society organisations globally. CHEC is a member of the Informal Forum of Commonwealth Organisations (IFCO) which brings Commonwealth Accredited Organisations together to discuss working in greater harmony and partnership. CHEC is also in Special Consultative Status with the UN Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC). It is a member of the Commonwealth Consortium for Education (CCfE) and the international development organisation, BOND.

As human ecology is a global subject, CHEC also works in partnership with ecological organisations, including the Society for Human Ecology (SHE), supporting conferences on sustainability, human ecology as well as other relevant activities. It is also seeking to broaden contacts within universities. CHEC works in concert with both the Commonwealth Secretariat, to which it is accredited, and the Commonwealth Foundation.

CHEC, having been accredited by UNFCCC, sent a delegation of seven persons to COP-26 in Glasgow from 31 October to 12 November 2021. In an arrangement with New Zealand's Waikato University, CHEC sent daily reports of activities at COP-26 which were then shared across the Pacific. Having moved out of its office in London in October 2020 to become a virtual organisation, meetings took place on Zoom during the Covid-19 pandemic and webinars were held on climate related issues. As a result, attendances at Governing Board meetings have increased with members tuning in from outside the UK. Thanks to the facilities provided by the National Liberal Club, these are now often hybrid with some attending on zoom and others face to face.

Projects

Work on the bee project in Uganda had been continued, but due to the Covid-19 pandemic this had to be cut short. Ideas are still being developed on ponds and water management in Bangladesh and India and work on this continues. In mid-2020, CHEC was able to support the project "Livelihood Enhancement of Tribes and Biodiversity Conservation in Wayanad District, Kerala, India. In October 2021, CHEC and Bread and Water for Africa (UK), working in partnership through "We are the Future School Project in Sierra Leone", a new school in Freetown was completed and a video of the delighted pupils is on the CHEC website. In November 2021 in Kenya, at Ilparakuo, Magadi, a partnership project was started to establish a Children's Learning Centre at the existing Maasai Village Polytechnic and is due to be completed mid-2022.

Publications and Website

In April 2021, CHEC published Human Ecology Journal No. 31 on Pollution, tackling associated global problems. Countries involved included Australia, The Gambia, India, Malaysia, New Zealand, and the United Kingdom. Originally intended for the Kigali CHOGM in Rwanda, this meeting was postponed until June 2022, so CHEC made this journal available for COP-26 in Glasgow in November 2021. Work also started on Human Ecology Journal No 32 on Forests which will be available in June 2022 to mark the Queen's Platinum Jubilee as well as for the Kigali CHOGM. CHEC's website keeps friends of human ecology updated about discussions around the Commonwealth on climate change adaptation and mitigation, the state of soil, rivers, lakes and oceans. It looks at how our consumption affects the environment and what we can do about it. All CHEC's reports are available on it. The quiet of lockdown has enabled CHEC to build followers on the social media with great effect.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Principal funding sources

The finances of CHEC are monitored by its Finance Committee. Banking arrangements are under review in the context of good governance. Financial support is also received from the Human Ecology Foundation (HEF), a subsidiary trust of CHEC but served by its own trustees and which incorporates the legacy of CHEC's late Founder, Zena Daysh.

COMMONWEALTH HUMAN ECOLOGY COUNCIL LTD

FUTURE DEVELOPMENTS

An active year ahead is expected in 2022 as, due to Covid-19, the Commonwealth Heads of Government Meeting (CHOGM) was again postponed and will now be held in June 2022 in Kigali, Rwanda. CHEC has used 2021 to plan its contribution to that meeting and will be participating in its forums. Now the overheads of the London office have been removed, this has enabled the charity to support small projects in Commonwealth developing countries, which has been much appreciated by those benefitting. In approving such projects sustainability is a key factor.

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Governing document

The charity is controlled by its deed of trust and governance documents, and constitutes a company, limited by guarantee, as defined by the Companies Act 2006. Its Articles of Association were updated to accommodate current legal requirements, approved at an EGM in February 2015. CHEC's Finance Committee meets regularly and reports to its Governing Board.

CHEC's work continues to be dependent on its global membership and supporters as well as on its Governing Board members and volunteers, along with assistance from a web consultant who has revamped the website on a continuing basis and built up CHEC's profile on the social media. Work is in progress to set up a membership and fundraising committee. A debt of gratitude is due to all involved in our work. Details of the Trustees are attached to this report.

Risk management

The trustees have a duty to identify and review the risks to which the charity is exposed and to ensure appropriate controls are in place to provide reasonable assurance against fraud and error. Safeguarding is reviewed as appropriate. The Trustees have referred to the Charity Commission's general guidance on public benefit when reviewing aims and objectives and in planning future activities. The Charity's purpose focuses on raising global public awareness and providing education on all aspects of human ecology.

As the charity's trustees of the Company (and also its directors for the purposes of company law) you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006 ('the 2006 Act').

Having satisfied myself that the accounts of the Company are not required to be audited under Part 16 of the 2006 Act and are eligible for independent examination, I report in respect of my examination of your charity's accounts as carried out under section 145 of the Charities Act 2011 ('the 2011 Act'). Independent examiner's statement

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no matters have come to my attention in connection with the examination giving me cause to believe:

1. accounting records were not kept in respect of the Company as required by section 386 of the 2006 Act; or
2. the accounts do not accord with those records; or
3. the accounts do not comply with the accounting requirements of section 396 of the 2006 Act other than any requirement that the accounts give a true and fair view which is not a matter considered as part of an independent examination; or
4. the accounts have not been prepared in accordance with the methods and principles of the Statement of Recommended Practice for accounting and reporting by charities (applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102)).

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
