VIVA ISLAM Report of the Trustees for the year ended 31 March 2018 Structure, Governance & Management Governing Document

Viva Islam is registered as a charitable trust registered with the Charities Commission on 08 January 2013 under charity number 1150377 and is governed by a deed of trust constituted on 30 March 2010.

Organisational Structure

The charity trustees are responsible for the general control and management of the charity. The trustees give their time freely and receive no remuneration or other financial benefits. Regular meetings and discussions are held by the trustees, who are responsible for all decisions taken in relation to running the charity.

To ensure the smooth running of the charity, the trustees have set up sub committees that help them overlook certain aspects of the charity's work. Subcommittees are currently set up for the day to day management of the charity. The subcommittee members meet up as when necessary and the day to day management of the charity is delegated to voluntary staff and administrators. Recruitment and appointment of Trustees Existing trustees are responsible for the recruitment of new trustees, in selecting trustees, we seek to identify people who regularly attend meetings, event or functions organized by the charity and who volunteer to help in the broader vision of the charity. Potential trustees are invited to meetings as observers and are given more details of the charity's aims, activities and progress. On agreement of all trustees, the new candidate is proposed as trustee at the next trustees meeting. This process allows due consideration of the person's eligibility, personal skills and knowledge.

Use of Volunteers

Volunteers are a vital resource for the charity; they are involved in most of our faith, community activities and projects. We encourage all our volunteers and trustees to be involved in our activities and to share their skills and services with others. All volunteers who are engaged with projects or activities involving children or other vulnerable people should be CRB checked. Viva Islam follows strict guidelines when recruiting and training a volunteer with the assistance of publications from the Charity Commission. All trustees and volunteers are made aware of the strict guidelines of the Charity Commission and their responsibilities under the Charity Act.

- 3) The prevention of poverty by providing items and services to individuals and communities in need and working with other organisations to prevent or relieve poverty.

Objectives

With the positive, peaceful and humanitarian teachings of Islam, we aim to integrate the poorest sections of communities back into mainstream society. Providing aid to marginalized communities or individuals and assisting with community development. Demonstrating the importance of charity through positive action, allowing people of other faiths to see and experience the beauty of Islam. Our projects and activities help bridge misunderstandings amongst different communities, Muslim and non-Muslim, providing correct and positive information about Islam. We have worked with other Muslim, non-Muslim organisations and government run / supported institutions, providing assistance and direction for poor members or sections of the community.

Strategies

Our areas of work are Education & Da'wah, Charity Food and Clothes Distribution, Environment and Community. We aim to make the charity accessible and welcoming to the community in general, sharing interfaith common values and working together to provide a better environment and support to the community, with emphasis on charity.

Events are held in Baja, Mexico, inviting communities from under privileged backgrounds, distributing clothing and basic food supplies when possible, as well as encouraging them to help each other through acts of good faith.

The Community Centre in Baja California, Mexico is a 'hub' for the communities in the state of Baja and for any outreach work in other states. The Centre provides prayer facilities for the Muslim Community, classroom / workshop / event facilities for the community in general. Open day seminar and events are held, where we invite people from different faiths to participate in some way in projects and promote inter faith cohesion and also hope to give insight into Foreign Arts and Culture.

Reserves Policy

The charity endeavours to hold funds equal to six months operational costs and any surplus to be held for its General Projects Fund and the Community Centre in Mexico.

Principal funding sources

The charity's principal source of funding is through donations made via the website, direct bank transfers by donors and collections held at Mosques and community dinner events or other prearranged collection venues. However, since the Covid pandemic no public events had been scheduled or held to raise funds.

Activities and Achievements

The Center is open for Muslim daily prayers, congressional prayers and community activities, it assists the local non-Muslim community with holding meetings for communal benefits and with governmental agencies at the Center when needed.

The Muslim community in Baja California and Puebla, Mexico, were assisted with the month of Ramadan and Eid al Fitr. Prayers were held for the entire month as well as food and refreshments provided for those who had fasted throughout the month. Classes were held at the centre for adults and children. The week of Eid al Adha was observed with prayers and sacrificed meat / food / clothes distribution amongst the community and those in need.
