OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

The charity is constituted as a company limited by guarantee and is therefore governed by a memorandum and articles of association.

The charity's object and its principal activity is to provide a happy environment in which young people can come together to realise their musical potential. This is achieved through the provision of a Saturday morning music school, the Youth Music Centre, offering a variety of musical activities and classes ranging from musicianship, choir and instrumental tuition to orchestras and ensemble work.

The charity wishes to give opportunities to all young people irrespective of ability or financial situation, therefore entry is open to anyone who wants to take part and assisted places are provided where necessary.

Youth Music Centre Trustees Annual Report

The charity is so organised that its Council Members/Directors meet regularly with the Artistic Director, the Administrator and the Finance Assistant to offer their support in the running of the school and to oversee its financial management. Steps have been taken to allocate specific appropriate roles to Council Members/Trustees to ensure appropriate oversight in the interests of good governance.

ACHIEVEMENTS AND PERFORMANCE

The charity continues to recover from the effects of the pandemic, and in the last financial year has faced the additional challenge of the cost of living crisis.

The regular Saturday morning activities continue at Bigwood House, and successful, well attended concerts have taken place at the end of each term. The Concerto Prize Competition has also taken place, with a well-attended Prize Winners' concert (including a mini Masterclass), giving the successful students the opportunity to perform in public as soloists with an orchestra of professional and semi-professional players

The decline in student numbers appears to have stabilised with encouraging signs now of growth. New initiatives in the teaching curriculum have contributed significantly to this. These include the opportunity for individual lessons for students and a new sight-reading skills class, which have proved to be popular. Steps are being taken to attract new students, and we closely monitor the trends, with particular reference to the termly income which this generates, against termly expenditure.

The Bursary Fund remains the focus of our fund raising activities, and the charitable donations which this generates are essential to YMC's ability to offer assisted places. We have been especially pleased to be able to use the funds raised to help students from families suffering financial hardship in the current financial climate. We now set an annual target to ensure the sums raised are adequate to meet the calls on the fund.

There have been donations this year from a number of organisations and foundations to which applications were made, as well as from individuals, The names of the donors are included on the Bursary Fund page of YMC's website https://www.youthmusiccentre.uk/bursary-fund/. YMC remains extremely grateful to the generosity of all these donors.

A Bursary sub-committee oversees our fund-raising activities, and reports to the Trustees/Board of Directors.

Our approaches to local schools and offers to do workshops in them to generate interest continues (a well-received performance took place at Kerem School). A termly newsletter, which provides an excellent means of disseminating information to everyone associated with YMC is sent out.

We wish to express our appreciation to the work undertaken by the Artistic Director, Marina Solarek. A number of her initiatives, including improving the profile of female composers, have been enthusiastically welcomed by students and staff. She has also worked tirelessly on behalf of the Bursary Fund, not just administering it, but also by providing a concert with her trio to raise funds.

She has been supported by the dedicated members of the teaching staff; they have also made innovative suggestions such as 'Bring a Friend Day'. Other activities include a teachers' concert.

Particular mention should also be made of the support staff, namely our Administrator Henry Hargreaves, and also Natasha Dedic (Finance Assistant).

The Trustees/Board of Directors receive regular and comprehensive financial reports. In the coming year, we plan to continue and consolidate the various activities by continuing to recruit more students, and by maintaining and expanding existing classes and the opportunities that we offer. However, we are also aware of the importance of being realistic when setting the budget for the following year.

Youth Music Centre Trustees Annual Report

FINANCIAL REVIEW

The statement of financial activities shows an excess of expenditure over income of £12,308 for the year to July 2023. We are conscious that this is the third year in succession for which there has been a deficit. Our income has risen in each of these years, but so too have our outgoings. We continue to monitor this term by term. We set our annual budget for the next academic year at our May meetings, where we seek to set the fees at a level which is realistic but affordable. We also review expenditures, especially payments to staff, for which a long overdue increase was agreed for the current financial year, and which in part accounts for the loss. On the positive side, at our most recent meeting in November 2023, we noted a profit for the Autumn term 2023, and also a modest projected profit for the Spring and Summer terms 2024. These projections, based on a conservative estimate of student numbers, and applying the levels of expenditure set for the year, and give cause for optimism.

Taking this into account, together with the level of our reserves, our funds are at a level at which the directors feel is appropriate for the stability of the charity going forward.

PRINCIPAL RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES

The reduction in student numbers from previous years remains the principal risk. We are also monitoring whether the possible introduction of VAT on fees, should this taken place, would adversely impact on our finances. The risks, and responses to them, are reviewed at each meeting of YMC's council members. Subject to these matters, the directors are satisfied as to the continuing viability of the charity

The Trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records that disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. The Trustees are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

The above report has been prepared in accordance with the provisions applicable to companies subject to the small companies regime as set out in Part 15 of the Companies Act 2006 and in accordance with the Charities SORP (FRS 102).

I report to the charity trustees on my examination of the financial statements of Youth Music Centre for the year ended 31 July 2023.

Responsibilities and basis of report

As the charity's trustees of the company (and also its directors for the purposes of company law) you are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006 ('the 2006 Act.

Having satisfied myself that the financial statements of the Charity are not required to be audited under Part 16 of the 2006 Act and are eligible for independent examination, I report in respect of my examination of your charity's financial statements as carried out under section 145 of the Charities Act 2011 ('the 2011 Act'). In carrying out my examination I have followed the Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5) (b) of the 2011 Act.

Independent examiner's statement

I have completed my examination. I can confirm that no material matters have come to my attention in connection with the examination giving me cause to believe:

- accounting records were not kept in accordance with section 386 of the 2006 Act; or
- the financial statements do not accord with those records; or
- the financial statements do not comply with the accounting requirements under section 396 of the 2006 Act other than any requirement that the financial statements give a 'true and fair' view which is not a matter considered as part of an independent examination; or
- the financial statements have not been prepared in accordance with the methods and principles of the Statement of Recommended Practice for accounting and reporting by charities applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102).

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report in order to enable a proper understanding of the financial statements to be reached.
