Chairman's report

A year of change

The last year for the Charity was dominated by the decision by Shere Manor Estate to sell a significant part of the Hurtwood, some 800 acres. Friends of the Hurtwood has managed public access to the Hurtwood for many decades but despite repeated assurances from Shere Manor Estate the sale prompted fears that access to the land put up for sale might be restricted or even withdrawn. Access by the public was made possible by a Deed of Dedication made in the last century by the landowner, R. A. Bray and a condition of sale was that the Deed would pass intact to the new landowners. The sales were completed during the course of the year and consistent with the wish of Shere Manor Estate, each of the new owners invited Friends of the Hurtwood to continue to manage public access to the land now under their ownership. All that was required for us to continue our access management role was a Management Agreement with each new landowner and the last of these was agreed during the latter half of the year.

So for the Hurtwood visitor, aside from subtle changes in some signage, little will change. Some boundary markers have appeared but these are only for reasons of title – no barriers will be erected to delineate ownership! For the Friends of the Hurtwood, or more specifically our Ranger, the key change is that we now have eight landowners to liaise with instead of just three. In reality this should not present too much of an operational challenge as the contents of the Management Agreements are essentially identical.

A change to be put to members in a special proposal at the Annual Meeting is a revision to our governance structure to create a corporate trustee company. There is really nothing unusual in this as we are following in the footsteps of many other charities who have adopted this approach to mitigate risk. In simple terms, if agreed at the Annual Meeting, this will mean that the individual trustees will be replaced by a corporate trustee company, to be called FOTH Trustee Company Ltd. Members of the charity will appoint directors of this company, similar to the way in which they currently appoint trustees. The charity will remain in place with its existing constitution only amended to reflect the new corporate trustee arrangement: all financial, operational and employment activities will continue in the same way as before.

The key advantage of the new structure is that it provides limited liability for the trustee body. At present there is no upper limit on the personal liability of each trustee. In an increasingly litigious society this fact has been found to be a major concern and thus a barrier for individuals who would otherwise be keen to become involved in running charities.

Finance

The accounts for the year are included later in this annual report so I will only comment on the following facts:

- Individual donations have fallen this year. We believe this relates primarily to recurring donations made by debit or credit cards through our website. Such cards expire within a few years and unless the originator updates card details the donation will cease. The most effective way for people to donate is by means of either a direct debit or standing order and we are taking steps to encourage uptake of this method
- Income from www.easyfundraising.org.uk is beginning to gain some traction but only 12 individuals have so far signed up. This is a new way for individuals to raise extra money for their favourite charity every time they make an on-line purchase at no cost to the individual.
- Our investment in a new tractor in 2014/5 is beginning to pay off. Our Ranger is more productive and running expenses are significantly lower compared with previous years.

During the last year we also invested in a new pick up truck and similarly, the impact of this investment in lower running expenses is beginning to show through

We received a significant legacy during the year which the trustees have allocated to restricted reserves. The trustees undertook a strategy review during the latter half of the year with a brief to recommend how this legacy could be best deployed to help establish a sustainable future for our Charity. The resulting strategy action plan is summarised below.

Strategy action plan

Three initiatives have been established as a result of the strategy review.

1. Encourage more community engagement by:
 - a. Establishing a number of special interest groups
 - b. Conducting a user survey
 - c. More targeted communication
2. Improve the experience for visitors to the Hurtwood by:
 - a. Renovating key trails
 - b. Improving the physical appearance/landscape e.g. at viewpoints, car parks
 - c. Improving signage
3. To achieve these objectives, more resources will be required:
 - a. Invest in equipment (and storage) to improve what we can do ourselves and thereby reducing reliance on contractors
 - b. Investigate the possibility of an apprentice as Deputy Ranger/Warden
 - c. Introduce more volunteering opportunities for minor projects
 - d. Make more use of digital technology e.g. social media
 - e. Develop new approaches to generate the funding that will be required

Reserves

We received a legacy during the year from the late John Donald Webb. This legacy is included in the Designated Legacies Reserve. We have been notified that payment of the balance of the legacy of the late M/s J Burt of Ewhurst will be received during 2017. This will also be added to our Designated Legacies Reserve on receipt.

Following receipt of the aforementioned legacies the trustees have agreed a policy of continuing to invest in equipment where such investment is likely either to reduce costs or improve Ranger productivity. Consequently a decision to invest in a large flail cutter and a new trailer for the tractor was taken at the trustees meeting in December. These investments will improve productivity and reduce the cost of subcontractors during the course of 2017 and beyond.

The trustees will continue to seek ways to deploy Designated Legacies Reserves that result in efficiency and productivity improvements. We also believe it will be possible to allocate some of these reserves to actions designed to improve the Hurtwood visitor experience

The Trustees are confident that the reserves are adequate for a charity of our size.

Risk

The Hurtwood Risk Register is updated regularly to take account of the changing nature of the environment of the Hurtwood (e.g. trail erosion, forestry works), the potential for conflict between different users (e.g. fast moving bikers and horse riders), financial risk and various other issues (e.g. increased fly tipping).

The Trustees have reviewed the updated risk register and are satisfied that appropriate and proportionate action is in place to mitigate the risks identified.

The Trustees have been advised that the charity will receive a further distribution of £67,778 from a legacy. This amount has not been included in these accounts.

Independent Examiner's Report to the Trustees of Friends of the Hurtwood

I report on the accounts of the charity for the year ended 31st October 2016 which are set out on pages 6 to 11

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144(2) of the Charities Act 2011 (the 2011 Act) and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 145 of the 2011 Act;
- follow the procedures laid down in the general Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the 2011 Act; and
- state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's report

My examination was carried out in accordance with the general Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a "true and fair view" and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

- 1 which gives me reasonable cause to believe that, in any material respect, the requirements:
 - to keep accounting records in accordance with section 130 of the 2011 Act; and
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the 2011 Acthave not been met; or
- 2 to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
