Newham All Star Sports Academy (NASSA) Report of the Trustees for the year end 30th September 2017

The Trustees who are also Director are pleased to present their report together with the financial statements of the Charity for the year end 30th September 2017.

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice (SORP) applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standards applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102 – effective 1 January 2015), (Charities SORP – FRS 102) and the Companies Act 2006.

Objectives and Activities for the Public Benefit

The principal aims of the Charity are to promote and to assist the development sports and physical activity for young people and in particular to carry on sports on Basketball, Volleyball, Football and other kinds of sports.

Community Benefits

NASSA aims to be different from other clubs. It believes in developing the individual not only through their basketball skills but focusing on developing future leaders and creating role models. We aim to provide young people with the fundamental skills that they will need to succeed in their lives.

The CABNAB programme delivered by NASSA has had a positive impact on reducing incidents of anti-social behaviour and crime. The programme is aimed at attracting young people and engaging them in a constructive activity rather than them being allowed to roam the streets. It teaches them discipline, respect and teamwork, all of which are important life skills.

By engaging children and young people in sport, NASSA are helping to promote and educate participants in the importance of a healthy lifestyle. Players are educated on diet and nutrition and by encouraging participation in the programme some players will train up to five times a week, which is line with government recommendations on physical activity.

Achievements and Successes of 2016-2017

It has been another exciting year for NASSA in which we have continued to give local young people sporting opportunities while promoting positive messages through basketball. Again, NASSA's achievements have been recognised by a wider audience.

In December 2016, three members of the NASSA family collected accolades at the coveted KeolisAmey Docklands Community Champion Awards 2016. The awards celebrate individuals and groups in the communities served by London's Docklands Light Railway.

Canning Town schoolboy and NASSA player Tyrees Garrod was named Young Achiever of the Year for his stance against bullying. A victim of bullying himself in the past, Tyrees now stands up in classes to give anti-bullying talks to pupils of all ages and also offers advice to the younger NASSA members at NASSA training sessions.

Newham All Star Sports Academy

Report of the Trustees for the year ended 30 September 2017

NASSA Head Coach Chris Facey was recognised as Role Model of the Year for his work in inspiring young people across east London to embrace the positive virtues that basketball can offer.

NASSA men's team player and sports coordinator Anthony Okereafor collected the Outstanding Service to the Community award for his work promoting NASSA's Carry A Basketball Not A Blade (CABNAB) initiative.

CABNAB mentoring talks continue to form an integral part of NASSA's approach to basketball sessions, specifically our extra-curricular schools sessions which reach 2,000 schoolchildren every week across the London Borough of Newham.

The schools programme extended to four schools in Redbridge during the year with the help of funding from London Sport. This funding would cease in December 2017 at which point two of the schools will pay for the NASSA sessions to continue out of their own funds.

In addition,

- NASSA continued to run CABNAB workshops for 3,000 local schoolchildren from a total of 33 schools in Newham as part of the Metropolitan Police's Junior Citizens programme.
- NASSA ran one local league and two national league basketball teams in the under 12s, under 16s age groups as well as a men's team. While playing standards are important, NASSA prides itself equally on the behaviour of and sportsmanship shown by NASSA players on the court.
- The number of Basketball England-registered members within NASSA continued to surpass 600.
- Club training sessions engaged between 80-100 young people aged 8-18 at any one time.

NASSA continued to reinforce its strong relationships with key partners. These include the University of East London (UEL), Basketball England, the Metropolitan Police, Tate & Lyle Sugars, London City Airport, the L&Q Foundation, Aspers Casino, Sport England, ExCel, Royal Docks Trust and activeNewham.

The highly successful wheelchair basketball programme which was run in partnership with London City Airport on Friday afternoons came to the end of its two-year funding period. All of our participants were signposted and passed on to UEL's wheelchair basketball programme, which runs on Monday nights, again at SportsDock.

NASSA's girls-only basketball programme for local young women aged 11-16 and run in partnership with Royal Docks Trust also finished when the funding period ended. Over 120 individual participants attended during the course of the programme and, again, they were signposted and passed on to other programmes. These included girls-only basketball sessions at Plashet School in East Ham, as well as a girls basketball club in Haringey. The participants were also offered the opportunity to attend NASSA's mixed training sessions during the week.

The NASSA Junior Coaches Programme, run in partnership with the L&Q Housing Foundation, went into its second year and took in new sessions in Hackney and Redbridge to add to the existing sessions in Newham and Leyton. This gave local young people the opportunity to gain nationally recognised sports qualifications as basketball coaches, referees and table officials. Because of low attendance figures at the Hackney session, that session was moved in January 2017 to Barking & Dagenham and drew a much larger number of participants.

When the latest programme report was compiled in July 2017,

- 176 local young people had gained basketball officiating qualifications;
- 29 local young people had become Basketball Level 1 qualified coaches;
- 26 local young people had become Basketball Level 2 qualified coaches.

One of the Level 2 qualified coaches, Solomon West, who attended the Hackney sessions, quickly became a trusted coach within NASSA. In last year's Trustees Report, it was mentioned that he had moved into a paid role. In the 12 months covering this report, he took over as lead coach at both the Leyton and the Barking & Dagenham sessions on the programme. Therefore, he was coaching the sessions at which he was once a participant and where his coaching journey began.

Having successfully established its Junior Coaches Programme with the L&Q Foundation, NASSA secured funding from the Royal Docks Trust to expand the programme around a new hub at Royal Docks School. The first sessions at this newly created hub took place in September 2017.

Funding for the NASSA holiday basketball camps programme which came from Aspers Casino ended during the year covered by this report. However, after consultation with parents who told us how much their child enjoyed the camps, it became clear that the camps would be able to continue on a payment basis. NASSA now runs basketball camps during every major school holiday. These camps are self-funding and continue to attract up to 40 local young people each day.

Mission Statement

Every child is unique and all have the ability to 'speak the language of sport'.

At NASSA we aim to develop a team of dedicated, skillful players on the court, but off the court our goal is to create good people.

NASSA strives to provide opportunities for young people to participate in, enjoy and learn through sport to help educate and strengthen their future development."

NASSA Vision 2016-2017

NASSA will continue to grow its grassroots coaching programmes within the local schools and the community of east London. It will develop links with neighbouring boroughs to roll out the NASSA model.

NASSA still hopes to expand its CABNAB programme to other London Boroughs with the continued support of the Metropolitan Police. We did not succeed in securing funding to start new sessions south of the river in the Borough of Southwark on a pilot basis. However, Natasha Hart has forged new relationships with key personnel within the London Assembly. London Mayor Sadiq Khan has made reducing knife crime a key objective of his term in office and we hope that NASSA can play an important role in implementing that policy within east London.

The achievements of the club teams on a national and regional level will be maintained to ensure that NASSA remains one of the highest achieving clubs in the country. The senior men's team played in the National League Division 3 in the 2016-17 season. It is hoped that juniors from NASSA's successful age-group teams can progress into the senior men's team.

Having expanded NASSA's Junior Coaches Programme into the Royal Docks area of east London, we hope to find further funding in the future to continue the roll-out of this important initiative. The qualifications gained by the young people on the programme enhance their employability and establish a pathway from the basketball court into work. It is hoped that this cohort of young coaches will become the next generation of community sports coaches in east London.

As of September 2017, NASSA was in the process of formulating a new mentoring programme to give disadvantaged young people the opportunity to gain advice and insight from a number of mentors, all in an environment – the basketball court – in which they feel comfortable. These mentors would include the likes of Drew Sullivan, the recently retired Great Britain basketball team captain, NASSA Patron Rt Hon Stephen Timms, MP for East Ham, and current Great Britain international and former NASSA player Teddy Okereafor. NASSA will seek funding for this programme in the hope of implementing it by the late spring of 2018.

NASSA aims to continue the roll-out of its corporate team-building workshop to attract participation from businesses in and around Canary Wharf. A possible off-shoot of this workshop is to host an annual NASSA inter-company basketball challenge tournament to raise funds for NASSA and increase awareness of the charity.

Partnerships with bodies, such as Sport England, Basketball England, UEL and the London Borough of Newham will be reinforced to secure funding to establish projects to benefit the community. Established partnerships will be reviewed and strengthened to ensure that NASSA has the opportunity to be the leader in the delivery of effective, quality basketball coaching in east London.

NASSA will continue to run its successful, heavily subscribed and now self-funding holiday programmes to introduce basketball to more young people in east London and to attract new players to the NASSA club programme.

The chair of the board and the trustees will be responsible for securing further funding from a number of corporate and/or local authority sources. Further capital will be sort to progress the development of NASSA and its activities.

Financial Review

In spite of limited resources and uncertainty over funding, NASSA has continued to develop its coaching programme and has a comprehensive business plan to ensure further growth of its services. Total Income of the charity was £190,317 and total expenditure was £198,581.
