for the year ended 31 December 2018

The trustees who are also directors of the charity for the purposes of the Companies Act 2006, present their report with the financial statements of the charity for the year ended 31 December 2018. The trustees have adopted the provisions of Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2015).

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Policies and objectives

In settling objectives and planning for activities, the Trustees have given due consideration to general guidance published by the Charity Commission.

In order to meet our objectives, as listed under the 'constitution' section below, we have undertaken the following activity to meet those objectives.

The Jewish Council for Racial
Equality (2008)

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Significant activities

2018 was a turbulent year for the UK Jewish community. Against the backdrop of an increase in antisemitic attacks and rhetoric (and, for that matter, in Islamophobic attacks and rhetoric as well), there was a decrease in trust and a straining of relations both between and within communities. These factors made our work harder at a time when our contribution was needed more than ever. However, it also presented us with opportunities to facilitate dialogue.

Community engagement

Black Asian Jewish Alliance (BAJA)

In March 2018 we launched a group drawn from members of the Black, Asian and Jewish communities. Following the work of the Black-Asian-Jewish Forum, which ran for 20 years, this new group aims to increase understanding of the various challenges faced by the three communities and to work together to tackle them. It has already had three letters printed in the national press.

Jewish Muslim relations

We began 2018 with a visit to the new Centre for Islamic Enlightening, a community centre in Golders Green, which had been the target of a negative campaign by a small minority of the local Jewish community, egged-on by right wing extremists. Our visit was organised to show solidarity, and it received positive coverage in the Jewish press.

Campaigning

During the year, we focused our campaigning on refugee rights in partnership with two national coalitions. The Lift the Ban coalition (which includes more than 100 organisations led by Refugee Action) has been campaigning to give asylum-seekers the right to work. Our contribution was to meet with four MPs (who are either Jewish, or represent constituencies with large Jewish populations) and organise a petition that was signed by more than 250 people. We also sent sample sermon material to rabbis to enable them to raise awareness of the issue. As 2018 drew to a close, the Home Office indicated it was sympathetic to supporting a change in the law.

The Family Reunification coalition (which includes Asylum Matters and Refugee Together) is calling for an expansion of the UK's laws relating to family reunification for refugees, in line with the Refugees Family Reunion Bill currently going through Parliament.

We also supported some smaller campaigns, including one calling for African refugees in Israel to avoid deportation (which was successful), and raised awareness within the Jewish community for justice for the Windrush generation.

Education

We continue to take part in informal education sessions for Jewish pupils in non-Jewish schools, organised by UJIA's JAMS project, including sessions at The Haberdashers' Aske's Girls' and Boys' Schools, Queen Elizabeth's Boys' School and St Albans Girls' school. One of the most popular sessions is called 'Kinder to Calais'.

We also took part in screenings of Sue Clayton's film 'Calais children: a case to answer', at Edgware Masorti Synagogue in London and Menorah Synagogue in Manchester. This followed a successful screening at the end of 2017 in Swiss Cottage in London.

Youth Engagement

As with many charities as long-standing as ours, our supporter base is getting older. To redress the balance, in May we recruited Rob Abrams, our first youth engagement officer. Rob's work has included starting Young Neighbours, a project bringing together young Jews and Muslims to campaign and provide practical support for refugees and asylum seekers in the UK. Our Muslim partner for this campaign has been Mentor Wise, a young Turkish group, which has been a very enthusiastic partner, and also collected extra signatures for the Lift the Ban campaign.

We also started a Race Equality Activism Fellowship scheme for 18-30 year olds, and took on our first cohort of five young people in September. The programme teaches them about race and asylum issues as well as training them in practical campaigning skills. Sessions have included inspirational speakers from the Roma, Black and Muslim communities; a 'campaigning 101' with Refugee Action; and a walking tour of the East End learning about Jewish history and local opposition to the British Union of Fascists in the 1930s.

Equality (2008)

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Significant activities

In the summer, we were visited by a group of 15-20 teenagers from NCS The Challenge, a general youth volunteering programme. They collected more than £300 worth of items for refugees and asylum seekers which were then distributed to synagogue run drop-in centres.

Practical support

Minds Together

In January we launched Minds Together, a pilot project matching volunteer therapists from the Jewish community with refugee clients of the Refugee Council. We are grateful to Marcia Gamsu for volunteering her time for this project. We are hoping to expand the project in 2019 to include group and art therapy sessions.

Refugee doctors mentoring

This project provides medics from the Jewish community to mentor refugee doctors as they requalify in the UK. During the year, we supported 11 refugee doctors sharing five mentors. For most of that time, the project was run by volunteer Susan Davenport. After she moved on in November, we split the role between Marsha Sanders, who deals with the day-to-day running of the project, and Helen Halpern, who is developing the project and creating new links.

JCORE Support

We continue to collect nappies for clients of the Helen Bamber Foundation through a nappy bank at Belsize Park Community Library. In addition, we repeated our successful collection drives, Pants for Purim and Coats for Calais, which raised more than £500 and £1,300 worth of donations respectively.

We also helped two destitute clients of the Helen Bamber Foundation, one of whom had arrived from Nigeria with only the clothes on his back. We provided emergency support and then referred him on to a local church, who were able to give additional support.

JUMP

JCORE's Unaccompanied Minors Project has now been matching up young people with trained and committed adult volunteer befrienders for a decade. The project provides one-to-one befriending for young refugees and asylum seekers who have come to the UK without a parent or a guardian. Having fled conflict and persecution, these young people find themselves alone in a new country, with an unfamiliar culture and (often) language, and a difficult and confusing asylum system. Befrienders offer a regular, stable and structured friendship as well as support in navigating through life in the UK. JUMP creates a safe space where young people can explore their interests, regain some control over their own lives and benefit from a non-judgemental, non-directive friendship.

In 2018, JUMP worked with 33 refugee and asylum-seeking young people who had been identified as isolated or in need of additional support. Our current clients come from 11 countries, with most from Afghanistan and Syria. Over two thirds are Muslim, with others from Christian and other backgrounds.

As JUMP's reputation has grown, so it receives referrals from a wider range of organisations. As well as refugee and migrant groups, we work with ESOL teachers in further education colleges, and with local authority social service teams to identify young lone refugees and asylum seekers who would benefit from a befriender. The largest number of referrals in 2018 came from The British Red Cross and Barnet College.

Articles and talks

During the year, our media exposure was greater than ever, with more than 22 articles, letters and references appearing in the press, mostly in online editions. This included 17 in the Jewish press, three in The Guardian, and one each in The Independent and The Times. We also appeared on Jewish Views radio.

We also took part in sessions at Bristol and Cambridge Limmud conferences; a social action conference organised by the United Synagogue; a panel event at Edgware Reform Synagogue; a number of events organised by Stand up to Racism; and a two-minute slot on immigration at the central London demonstration against the visit of US President Donald Trump.

Staff and volunteers

The Jewish Council for Racial
Equality (2008)

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

In addition to our JUMP befrienders and mentor doctors, we are grateful to David Bier, Susan Davenport, Marcia Gamsu, Helen Halpern, Chris Mohr, Marsha Sanders and Deborah Weinberg, who volunteered their time in various capacities.

We also had two staff changes during the year. Rob Abrams took over from Dor Barak as our youth-engagement and campaigns support coordinator; and Leyla Williams replaced Vivienne Jackson as our JUMP project coordinator. Many thanks to Dor and Vivienne for all their hard work.

We were greatly saddened by the sudden passing of Maureen Kendler, a former JCORE education officer, and of June Jacobs, a long-standing, distinguished patron. They both did so much for our work and for the Jewish communal sector in general, and are both deeply missed.

We also organised a farewell tea party for Dr Richard Stone, our former chairman and president, and his wife Ruth, on their departure from London.

ACHIEVEMENT AND PERFORMANCE VOLUNTEERS

We have 36 volunteers in our organisation, excluding our board of directors and participants in our youth engagement projects.

25 of these are befrienders with our JUMP project, which matches volunteer befrienders with unaccompanied asylum-seeking children and young people who are in the UK without their parents. All of our volunteers undergo an enhanced DBS check and receive training. 5 mentor doctors volunteer on our refugee doctor mentoring scheme and another two volunteers run that project. We also have a volunteer therapist on our 'Minds Together' project. The remaining volunteers help with PR, publicity and other one-off activities as needed.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Investment policy and objectives

During the year ended 31 December 2018 the charity recorded a deficit of £5,171 (2017 - Surplus £12,834).

In accordance with the recommendations of the Statement of Recommended Practice the trustees confirm that they have reviewed the major risks to which the charity might be exposed. An indemnity policy is in place to cover the negligence or default of trustees or employees.

RESERVES POLICY

It is the policy of the trustees to distribute most of the income that is received for the purposes of the charity, only retaining sufficient reserves for designated purposes or to finance working capital. Accordingly, in order to ensure the smooth running of the charity, the trustees aim to have reserves available to cover between three and six months future core expenditure at any time.

At the end of 2018 the charity held £50,423 in reserves, of which £21,918 were restricted funds.

FUTURE DEVELOPMENTS

The charity is expecting to continue its current priorities of combatting all forms of racism, promoting dialogue between communities and both supporting and campaigning for the rights of refugees and asylum seekers.

In 2019 we will specifically aim to:

- Work towards safely maintaining 35 befriending pairs on our JUMP project,
- Support the campaign for the establishment of a permanent memorial to the victims of the transatlantic slave trade,
- Organise a fundraising dinner to raise funds for our work.

3. The relief of need for public benefit amongst asylum seekers and those granted refugee status by the provision of vocational skills and training, advice and support so as to advance them in life and any other relevant means appropriate for that purpose that may apply.

Recruitment and appointment of new trustees

The management of the company is the responsibility of the Trustees who are elected and co-opted under the terms of the Articles of Association.

Organisational structure

The management of the company is the responsibility of the Trustees.

The Trustees have carried out annual reviews for risks to which the charity is exposed and where necessary have established systems to mitigate such risks.

The day to day management has been delegated to the Executive director Dr. Edie Friedman.

Decision making

The charity is expected to continue its current priorities of combatting racism in all its forms, promoting dialogue between communities in order to foster understanding and build bridges and supporting refugees and asylum seekers, inspired by all the Jews who, over generations, have found sanctuary in the UK.
