Report of the directors

The main objective of MQT is to oversee the operation of Manchester's Millennium Quarter, which is a distinctive cultural area in the historic medieval sector of Manchester. The Millennium Quarter was created as part of the Master plan for rebuilding the city centre following the catastrophic damage sustained in the explosion of June 1996. It comprises four elements: Exchange Square - a hard landscaped civic space adjacent to the retail core; the Manchester Cathedral Visitor Centre which contains the renovated Hanging Bridge, an exhibition about the Cathedral, meeting rooms and a café; Cathedral Gardens - a new green public space with trees, water features and seating areas and Urbis which is situated in Cathedral Gardens (now the National Football Museum).

Manchester City Council is directly responsible for the ongoing maintenance of Exchange Square and Cathedral Gardens. The Cathedral is responsible for the operation of the Cathedral Visitor Centre and received deficit grant funding of £52,616 in 2021/22 from MQT towards operating costs (2020/21: £40,426).

Achievements, performance and the fulfilment of public benefit

Financial performance is summarised in the financial statements accompanying this report.

National Football Museum

The National Football Museum continues to operate successfully within the Urbis building and provides regular updates to the Millennium Quarter Trust Board. The Chief Executive of the National Football Museum continues to review strategic and operational plans and is working closely with MQT, Manchester City Council and partners. The National Football Museum has now been open in Manchester for 10 years and recently agreed a new lease of Urbis with Manchester City Council. Following a recruitment process in May the National Football Museum announced nine new-elected trustees. From Monday 23 May, the National Football Museum updated its admission charges, whilst remaining free to residents of Manchester, the price of tickets for adults and children over the age of 5 ranges from £7-£12. All of the funds raised through ticket sales will be invested back into the charity, with more exciting new exhibitions and events, community programmes and workshops for all visitors. Over the last 12 months the National Football Museum has placed a strong focus on female participation, with a new exhibition charting the progress from the 19th century to present day and playing a central role in the 2022 Women's Euros.

Report of the directors

Manchester Cathedral Visitor Centre

The Covid-19 pandemic had a severe impact on the conference business of the Visitor Centre in 2020 and 2021. Zoom meetings replaced conferences for many businesses and there seemed little likelihood of a return to pre-pandemic conference income. In consultation with the chair of MQT, the decision was taken towards the end of 2021 to end the conference business and to let the two conference rooms on a commercial basis. This has given the Visitor Centre more regular sustainable income in 2022. Repairs continue to be a major cost to the Visitor Centre.

Manchester Cathedral

Manchester Cathedral has also been badly affected by the pandemic with a loss of donation and event income but it continues to support the Visitor Centre. The recent repair and refurbishment of the Visitor Centre lift has been funded by a loan of £42,406 to the Visitor Centre.

Financial risk management objectives and policies

The principal financial instruments of the company are cash, operating debtors and operating creditors. The objective of the company in relation to these instruments is to ensure that none of them pose a material threat to the unrestricted reserves of the company.

All cash is held in Pounds Sterling with Barclays Bank plc.

The primary risk facing the company is the loss of support from Manchester City Council. Currently grants paid to the company amounts to 2021/22 79% (2020/21 : 74%) of the total income and therefore its loss could lead to the closure of the company. This risk has been mitigated by an undertaking of support (as detailed in the Principal Accounting Policies) given by Manchester City Council.

Funding

Any deficit of the Charitable Company is funded by Manchester City Council. The company is able to meet all outgoing items of expenditure and future plans and commitments. The company did not engage in any investment activity during the financial period.

Restricted funds

The company does not hold any restricted funds.

Reserves policy

The company has approved a reserves policy which has identified only a minimal need to accrue reserves for contingencies or investment opportunities. This policy takes account of the current scope of charitable activities as well as future arrangements with MCC. The reserves held at 31 March 2022 were £nil (2021: £nil).

Investment policy

The company has the power to invest the monies of the company not immediately required for its purposes in any investments, securities or property thought fit, subject to current law. The company did not make investments during the period covered by these accounts.

Report of the directors

Going concern

After making enquiries, the Board has a reasonable expectation that the company has adequate resources to meet its debts as they fall due for the foreseeable future, being a period of twelve months after the date on which the report and financial statements are signed. For this reason, it continues to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the financial statements. Further information is given in the accounting policies (page 11). It should be noted that the company has secured a commitment of support from Manchester City Council to provide appropriate resources for a period at least 12 months from the date of approval of the financial statements.

Directors' responsibilities for the financial statements

The Trustees (who are also Directors of the Millennium Quarter Trust for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing the Trustees' Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and regulations.

Company law requires the trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial period. Under that law the trustees have elected to prepare financial statements in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (United Kingdom Accounting Standards and applicable law) including FRS 102. The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland. Under company law the trustees must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charitable company and the company and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, of the charitable company for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP (FRS 102);
- make judgements and accounting estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charitable company will continue in business.

The Trustees are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the charitable company's transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charitable company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

Independent examiner's report to the trustees of The Millennium Quarter Trust Limited

I report on the accounts of The Millennium Quarter Trust Limited for the year ended 31 March 2022, which are set out on pages 11 to 18.

This report is made solely to the charitable company's trustees, as a body, in accordance with the regulations made under section 154 of the Charities Act 2011. My work has been undertaken so that I might state to the charitable company's trustees those matters I am required to state to them in an independent examiner's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, I do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the charitable company and the charitable company's trustees as a body, for my work, for this report, or for the opinions I have formed.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The trustees (who are also the Directors of the charitable company for the purposes of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charitable company's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year (under section 144(2) of the Charities Act 2011 and Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006 and that an independent examination is needed).

Having satisfied myself that the charitable company is not subject to audit under company law and is eligible for independent examination, it is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 145 of the Charities Act 2011;
- to follow the procedures laid down the general Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the Charities Act 2011; and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's statement

My examination was carried out in accordance with the general Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a comparison of the accounts with the accounting records kept by the charitable company. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair' view and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

- which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect, the requirements:
 - to keep accounting records in accordance with section 386 of the Companies Act 2006;
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records; to comply with the accounting requirements of the section 396 of the Companies Act 2006; and
 - to comply with the Statement of Recommended Practice 'Accounting and reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective January 2019)'
